

Sept. 21, 1944

Dear Mrs. Manley:

I hope this letter finds you and Mr. Manley in best of health. We reached home safely. On our way home the plane stopped a half an hour in Cuba. We got in Panama at 3:00 P. M. When I got back I received a contract to go to Venezuela in November.

Mrs. Manley I can just imagine how the winter starts to feel now. Here in this country we are having rain, and when it starts to rain it rains for four or five months.

The paper Mr. Adams got was alright but we had to get another paper which was more important they told us. We went to a building in Miami and had to fill out some forms with a lot of questions to answer. Nothing more to say until I hear from you.

Respectfully Yours
